FOREWORD

Daylilies can be relied upon for a wealth of bloom and masses of color in practically all types of soil and weather without the fuss and bother of combating insects and disease. In mid-summer, when bloom from other perennials is scarce, daylilies are at their peak. During and after mid-summer vacation neglect, the bright starlike flowers of hemerocallis are always there and waiting to greet you. Most reliable of all flowers "The Flower of Character".

Eminent plant breeders have made rapid progress in the development and improvement of Hemerocallis. The flowers are as large and beautiful as those of the finest bulb lillies. Established plants of some varieties have flowering scapes (stalks) with as many as fifty buds which open and flower over a two to six week period. Daylilies are now available in a wide range of colors, color patterns, heights and flower shapes. A proper selection of varieties will furnish bloom spring to frost. All varieties have the quality of facing their flowers outward to the light or open when planted near walls, shrubbery, etc.

Daylily uses are many and varied. They are equally at home in the perennial border, rock garden, foreground of shrubbery or evergreen plantings, near pools and along the banks of small streams. They require very little attention and are easy to grow and transplant. Their charm and beauty in the garden is creating many new daylily enthusiasts annually. Try a few this year. They are permanent and will be a pleasure for years.

The Quarterly Journals and beautiful Year Book issued by the American Hemerocallis Society will keep you up-to-date on daylilies. Dues are $3.50 per year payable to: Olive M. Hindman, Secretary, 404 Weigle Ave., Sebring, Florida.

SPECIAL ATTENTION

Free Plants — Your Own Selection

On orders of $10 or more you may select "extras" up to 1/5 or 20% of the total amount remitted.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY AND NOTE THE ABBREVIATIONS THAT WILL BE USED IN THE FOLLOWING DESCRIPTIONS.

FIRST: Those used immediately after the flower name and at the beginning of the description:

3", 4", etc.—Flower spread in inches.

Fr—Fragrant

VFr—Very fragrant

OE—Flowers remain open evenings until dusk or darkness.

ROL—10 pm.—Flowers remain open late until time given, 10 pm in this case.

EB—Evening Bloomer. Flowers open in late afternoon or in the evening before darkness. EB 5 pm. means open at 5 pm.

NB—Night Bloomer. Flowers open at night. NB 9 pm. means flowers open at 9 pm.

SECOND: Those used in the description:

YT—Yellow throat.

GT—Green throat.

YGT—Chartreuse or yellow-green throat.

LAST: Those used at end of description:
Number of buds—10 buds, 20 buds, etc., indicates the number of flowers that will be produced on each bloom stalk during its blooming period.*

24", 30", etc.—This last figure is the height in inches of the bloom stalk.

EVERGREEN: Evergreen foliage all winter in the far South. All others may be considered dormant or semi-evergreen and completely hardy. The Dr. Branch daylilies originate in Piper City, Illinois, 90 miles from Chicago which insures their hardiness.

*Number of buds ranges from 8 to as high as 100. A variety with a low number of buds, say 8 to 15, will have a short 2 weeks blooming period and all flowers will be produced on branches only at the top of the bloom scape. As the number of buds increases, the blooming period lengthens up to 5 or 6 weeks and the bloom stems have branches on the sides as well as the top. 35 buds is high and over 40 unusually high. In general a high number of buds is preferable, but those with the low number have a way of compensating with a more generous number of blooming stalks.

HARDINESS LINE: On a U. S. map draw a line from the Northwest tip of the State of Oklahoma to Cleveland, Ohio and from Cleveland to Boston, Mass. Some varieties, usually with evergreen foliage, suffer injury and sometimes winter kill North of this line.

EVERGREEN refers to the foliage of varieties that remain evergreen throughout the winter in the far South. This class is less hardy North. North of the "Hardiness Line" they require good drainage and winter mulching.

EVERGREEN VARIETIES: Summer transplanting or purchasing is recommended in localities North of the "Hardiness Line."

FIRST YEAR RESULTS: Early blooming varieties planted in Spring may fail to bloom until the following Spring. Do not judge any variety the first year as the performance with respect to flower size, color, plant height and branching are all below par.

PLANT DAYLILES with junction point of roots and foliage 1 to 1½ inches below soil level. If needed, prepare the soil by mixing in a shovel of rotted manure or compost. Spread the roots and allow soil to sift in between the roots. Water in with a solution of 1 teaspoon Hyponex to a gallon of water. Afterwards keep watered until plant growth starts. Space plants at least 2 feet apart to allow sufficient room for the established clump. Location should provide at least 1 or 2 hours of sun each day. Morning sun and afternoon shade is ideal. Do not plant in a swamp or poorly drained area.

MULCHING: A first winter mulch is desirable. The purpose is to protect the crown and the top soil a few inches around it from winter and early Spring thawing. Do not use soggy material. A nest of excelsior is good.

GUARANTEE: We use care to keep our plants true to name and are willing to replace, on proper proof, any found to be otherwise, but it is mutually agreed that in no case shall we be liable for more than the original cost.

MAIL ORDERS: On orders under $5.00 please add 35c for packing and shipping. Missouri customers include sales tax.

PLANTS ARE SENT parcelpost post paid. Orders $10.00 or over are sent "Special Handling" to insure passenger train transit.
